Secondary Weeks 25-28

---

1. Healthy Body
   - I will participate in health-enhancing physical activity for at least 60-minutes each day.

2. Healthy Mind
   - I will reflect on the SEL concepts of determination, courage, and passion.

3. Enjoyment & Challenge
   - I will participate in purposeful and challenging practice in an effort to improve my skills.

4. Building Skills
   - I will participate in Roundnet skill-building and practice activities to improve passing, hitting, and serving skills.

Why are we learning this?

Roundnet is the popular sport played with Spikeball equipment. This module is designed to help students build basic Roundnet skills while preparing them for participation in OPEN National Field Day. Students will also reflect on important emotional concepts with a focus on empowerment. They will:

- Learn and practice basic skill-building activities and drills with a focus on improving your passing, hitting and serving skills.
- Reflect on the concepts of determination, courage, and passion.
Students and families:
During the next 4 weeks, we will be building basic Roundnet skills. Roundnet is the sport played with SPIKEBALL equipment. It’s okay if you don’t have a SPIKEBALL set at home. You can use any small ball or even a sock-ball to practice. For a net, you can use a hoop or create a net-sized circle with a rope.

Keep this page in a safe place. It’s a checklist of everything that you will need to complete during this 4-week SPIKEBALL CHALLENGE experience! But, if there’s ever a time when you need a copy of our learning materials, you can visit: OPENPhysEd.org to download activity pages, assignments, and watch video demonstrations of the learning activities that we’ll be using in physical education class.

Brain & Body Warm-Ups
Today is the first lesson in our OPEN SPIKEBALL CHALLENGE physical education module. In this unit, we will be working on building basic ball Roundnet skills. SPIKEBALL CHALLENGES are a part of this year’s OPEN National Field Day for High Schools. We’ll be participating in those events and activities during class, including some fun Minute To Win Challenges.

The first challenge we’ll attempt is called Zero Gravity. We’ll all start and stop at the same time on my signals and my timer. The object of this challenge is to keep 3 balloons in the air for 1 minute. On the start signal you’ll toss the balloons in the air and tap or volley the balloons to prevent them from touching the ground.

If you don’t have a balloon you can use the ball you’ll be using for your SPIKEBALL practice and attempt self-passing skills to keep the ball in the air.

Purposeful Practice
During our Purposeful Practice time, we will practice passing skills. Passing is one of the foundational skills in Roundnet and is absolutely necessary for game play. There are two types of passes – underhand passing and overhand passing. Let’s watch this short video to get an overview of passing from the team at SPIKEBALL (WATCH THIS VIDEO LINK).

Now that we have an understanding of how passing is used and the skills cues for performing each pass, let’s work on Levels 1 through 3 of the self-passing challenges. If you can perform 5 passes in a row you earn a bronze medal; 10 passes in a row is a silver medal; and 20 in a row is a gold medal. Begin on the start signal and freeze on the stop signal.

Just for Fun (and health)
During the Just for Fun and Health section of the SPIKEBALL CHALLENGE module, we’ll focus on social and emotional concepts that can improve our overall wellbeing and help us achieve our goals. This week we’ll focus on Determination.

Let’s watch this short Ted Talk about determination. Then, we’ll complete the concept square using a Google Slide. After you fill out your Google Slide, we’ll discuss our ideas and thoughts on this important social and emotional learning concept.
The Goal:
Score points by standing up while balancing a book on your head.

What You Need:
Timer / Interval Music, Book (or Flying Disc)

How To Play:
- On the start signal, balance a book on top of your head and try to stand up.
- If you successfully move from a seated to a standing position without the book falling off your head, you score a point. Sit back down and try again.
- If the book falls off your head, return to a seated position and try again.
- Score as many points as you can in one minute!
- Bronze = 1-3 points, Silver = 4-5 points, Gold = 6 points

[Respond to the question below with 2 or 3 sentences.]
> What barrier to being physically active did you overcome over the past 3 weeks? How did you overcome it?
WEEK 4: Use this activity log to track your physical activity minutes. Have an adult sign their initials next to each day that you complete 60 minutes.

Go Be Great Goal: Get 60 minutes (or more) of physical activity every day.

> There are many reasons to be physically active. Can you make a list of your reasons for being active?
FOR PASSING AND HITTING

- Athletic stance
- Hand facing up toward sky/ceiling
- Keep your hand flat
- Keep your hand soft
- Keep your eyes on the ball
Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is a strategy for eliminating instructional and environmental barriers for every member of a learning community to meet the needs of all students across the continuum of physical, intellectual, and emotional abilities.

The table below offers UDL adaptations and suggestions.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Equipment</th>
<th>Rules</th>
<th>Environment</th>
<th>Instruction</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Use a variety of different “SPIKE” balls (size, material, weight, colors, etc.). Allow students to explore and choose from the options. Use a large net/target made from ropes or hoops.</td>
<td>Allow students to catch the ball before passing. Allow students to throw the ball instead of hitting. Allow the ball to bounce. Use more than 3 or unlimited touches.</td>
<td>Visually mark/define space in the activity area with visual markers like cones, spot markers, visual signs/cues. Adjust lighting (e.g., brighter or lighter).</td>
<td>Be flexible. Adjust as needed. One size doesn’t fit all. Establish consistent, predictable routines. Be concise. Speak clearly with a well-defined beginning &amp; end. Give 1-step vs multiple-step directions. Provide time for students to process instruction. Give choice to motivate students. Provide multiple forms of prompts and cues — kinesthetic, visual, and auditory.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

When UDL adaptations are not enough for accessing and developing equitable learning activities and assessments, and you feel that you need to do more for individual students, reach out to providers on the students’ IEP Teams. You can also reach out to your school’s curriculum resource department in order to see how else you can modify instructional delivery to meet students’ needs. Students who have an IEP or a 504 will oftentimes have specific modifications and accommodations in their IEP based on individual needs.
